Aviation Search Group Reaches 700th Helicopter Pilot Placement

Roanoke, TX (March 8, 2022): Aviation Search Group (HELI-EXPO Booth 4124) has continuously been the resource companies turn to when they have a hiring need for a critical role. The retained search firm has reached an impressive milestone. Aviation Search Group has recently surpassed 700 helicopter pilots placed with their clients.

Largely focused on executive level searches, Aviation Search Group has found success applying the executive search approach to helicopter pilot roles. Executive Director, Gary Miner, stated “It certainly is a cool milestone, a true testament to our process and our people.”

With the hiring urgency and recruiting demand of today’s market, getting quality candidates is a real concern for everyone. Aviation Search Group has a dedicated process to ensure they find people to not just fill an open position, but to grow with a company long-term. Miner added, “Regardless of the position, our consistent approach is what delivers results.”

Aviation Search Group also offers a variety of volume hiring programs depending upon position type, number of candidates being hired, location, and more. Clients are provided with dedicated recruiters to manage and assist in the hiring needs, ensuring a consistent flow of qualified candidates.
